Ready to Use Disinfectants

At Byotrol, we understand the varied needs of our many customers in animal health environments. Animal health and welfare settings are increasingly stretched and while many organisations recognise the economic benefits of concentrate disinfectants, some organisations require a diluted solution which can be safely deployed to volunteers and fosterers, without the need for dilution training and personal protective equipment.

Sustainability

Improving the sustainability of our products is crucial to ensuring the future of our planet. Our team work tirelessly with our suppliers and manufacturers to ensure that our products are produced as sustainably as possible. The introduction of recycled plastic packaging to the ANIGENE range in 2022 saw a step-change in our sustainability journey, and in the following 12 months 97% of ANIGENE containers were manufactured using recycled plastic, saving over 4,000kgs of virgin plastic.

In the last 2 years Byotrol has invested heavily in training, a key way to improve the impact of our products on the environment, ensuring end-users are appropriately trained on how to store, transport, use, and dispose of our disinfectants correctly. Our training resources are free to access and we encourage organisations to ask us for help with their training materials.

Our products are manufactured to strict ISO 9001 quality standards as locally as possible;

- Chlorine tablets - Ireland
- Liquids & wipes - UK
- Aerosols - Spain

Our use of recycled plastic packaging is constantly improving, as we find new solutions. Visit our website for details on specific products. We have introduced reprocessing procedures to reuse our IBCs and when we cannot access the recycled packaging we need, we are working with our suppliers to source new solutions.

Our sustainability journey is far from over, our technical team continues to research and develop new technologies using plant-based active materials.
