REASONS TO SPONSOR

100% of Sponsors and Exhibitors from our 2023 Conference said they would return

"As a supporter of the association for over twenty years we have found the conference an invaluable tool to make contact with its members and potential new customers.

As the world's leading manufacturer of specialist animal related bio-security products we have also found it an excellent social event and a really relaxed and comfortable way to meet up with and stay in touch with our existing customers".

Alan Dudley – CEO – Safe4

1 Audience of around 500 animal welfare practitioners, eager to bring back information and solutions to their organisations.

2 ADCH Conference covers operational and management topics. So your message is being viewed by individuals from all levels, including key decision makers.

3 We have a range of sponsorship options to ensure you get the right level of brand exposure and opportunity to expand your network.
